ONLY A NORWEGIAN FLAG

Its Fluttering in the Breeze Causes Excitement—A Boise Woman Disappears—A Contractor's Troubles.

Special Dispatch to the Standard. Boise, Idaho, Oct. 22.—Yesterday a Norwegian at Moscow raised the flag of his nation, unaccompanied by the stars and stripes. The militiamen were very indignant and the captain of the company telegraphed Governor Wiley as follows: Shall company K, I. N. G., forcibly haul down a Norwegian flag displayed without the stars and stripes? Its owner says he will shoot the blue breeches of us, but we would like the job. McCALLIE, Captain Company K.

Governor Wiley advised them to leave the flag alone during the Columbus day exercises.

Stock Inspector Clark, who has returned from Emmett, says 25 horses have symptoms of glanders. If the veterinary surgeon pronounces it so he will have the horses shot.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder, who lives at the race track near here, has been missed since Thursday. She disappeared, leaving no message for her family. Her husband does not know whether she has committed suicide or run away. He thinks she may have gone to Oregon to meet a man she was corresponding with. She is young and good looking and leaves three small children.

Boise is building a $40,000 city hall. Several weeks ago Contractor McPherson temporarily suspended work for want of money. He turned over his property to W. H. Ridenbaugh, one of his bondsmen, who is completing the work. Now D. P. D. Pride and James Fianagan, who had furnished material, claim they will hold the city responsible for what McPherson owed them, and the city hall is likely to get into litigation.

World's Fair Commissioner Wells has decided to fit out an expedition early in the spring to explore the wonderland recently discovered in Custer and Lemhi counties by Geologist Schermerhorn. He hopes to find a glacial field, a fossil forest, coal measures and interesting specimens for the world's fair exhibit.

A special to the Evening Mail from Genesee says that the democrats had a great rally there last night, and are confident of carrying Latah county, the home of McConnell, the republican candidate for governor.

CHEYENNE'S FIERY EDITOR.

Under Arrest in Chicago Charged With Libel.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A. S. Mercer, world's fair commissioner from Cheyenne, Wyo., and editor of the Northwestern Live Stock Journal, published in that city, has been arrested on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by J. E. Clay Jr., president of the Wyoming Stock Growers' association and a member of the firm of Clay & Forrest of Chicago. Mercer this afternoon gave bonds to appear on the 26th. The suit is an echo of the "rustlers" war which caused so much excitement in Wyoming last spring and summer. Clay charges Mercer with the publication of an article bitterly reflecting on the complainant, and charges that he is directly responsible for the trouble among the cattlemen. It is further alleged in Mercer's article, says Clay's complaint, that he—Clay—and his co-workers deliberately made a list of men to be killed and the houses to be burned, and plotted treason to the state with the powers that be, and went forth to murder and burn. "What cared he for his fellowmen, if by murder and arson more grass could be secured and greater returns made to his foreign stockholder? Look, our point-suffering and blood counted for naught against the golden returns on investments made."

THEY MADE A RUSH.

Home Seekers Crowd Into the Crow Reservation.

Special Dispatch to the Standard. BILLINGS, Oct. 22.—So soon as the news of the opening of the Crow reservation was known here there was a stampede of citizens of Yellowstone county, who have for years looked longingly across the river. Surprise is felt by many that some provision had not been made to give every one an even chance. Instead of that all the sheepmen and cattlemen, and in fact any one that chose to be on the ground, have had their pick of the small quantity of arable land that was left after the Indian claims were satisfied. There will doubtless be many disappointed ones, though some will be able to secure good homesteads. The rush was much greater from Stillwater, Park City and other points west than from Billings, though quite a number of our citizens have crossed over into the promised land.

Two Men Drowned.

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 22.—A Union Pacific barge loaded with wheat ran into the dock last night and had a hole knocked in her bottom. Captain Marshall Short and August Anderson went down in the hold to stop the leak when the barge sank and both men were drowned.

IN GERMANY.

Wrangling Over Bills to be Discussed by the Law Makers.

Copyright New York Associated Press, 1892. BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Public interest in the military bureau is increased by the secrecy maintained regarding provisions of the measure. According to good authority a number of recruits to be raised annually is increased by 60,000, making a total number of 230,000. Little doubt the discussion in the Reichstag on the bill will be stormy and eventual.

A mass meeting is called at Erstein next week to consider the subject of the proposed duty on tobacco, which the opposition is specially directed against. Preparations for similar meetings are being made elsewhere.

The Muschenor-Nachrichten asserts 14,000 men will be made idle in Bavaria alone by the tax, while the poorer classes throughout will suffer, as a cheap foreign cigar is an impossibility and the price of cigars, and home grown tobacco is certain to be raised above the price at which poor people can purchase them.

Several papers assert that Prince Bismarck, who at present is suffering from acute neuralgia, will lead the opposition against the bill.

Official information shows that while cholera is decreasing in Hamburg, Germany, there is increased danger from an invasion from Russia. Numerous cases of this disease and deaths are reported from frontier towns.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE.

A Wealthy Californian Leaves His Home in a Mysterious Way.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Dr. T. E. Tynan, who left his home at Modesto, Cal., on the 12th inst. to transact some business in this city, and who is a director of the Grangers' bank in this city and a prominent member of the Grangers' Business association, his wealth being estimated at half a million dollars, has been missing for a week past. It is learned that he drew quite a sum of money from the banks of this city to pay off some bills and that when he was last seen he must have had several hundred dollars in his possession. He had a lawsuit on hand, a legal complication growing out of a demand made by daughters of his first wife for property which they claimed he originally received from their mother's estate. If the allegations in the complaint filed by them proved correct, Dr. Tynan, it is stated, would have little left of his entire property. Dr. Tynan never appeared concerned about the suit, but frequently expressed his confidence that he would win it. Detectives are engaged in endeavoring to trace the missing man.

THEY GOT THERE.

Special Dispatch to the Standard.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The ceremony of christening the infant princess, born to the German emperor and empress on Sept. 13, took place this evening in the jasper gallery of the Potsdam palace with great pomp. Queen Victoria is one of the princess' numerous and distinguished god parents. The persons selected for this function numbered 18.

Quiet at Pine Ridge.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A letter has been received by the commissioner of Indian affairs from Captain Brown, Indian agent at Pine Ridge, denying that any trouble is brewing on the reservation, or that the ghost dance is being talked of by the Indians.

QUEBEC, Oct. 22.—The case of Hon. Mr. Mercer, charged with malfeasance in office, and Ernest Paquet, charged with bribery, was fixed for hearing to-day, but other cases on the list not being concluded, they were postponed until Tuesday morning.

Frightful Loss of Life in a Sardinian Village.

NO WARNING WAS SOUNDED

Floods Sweep Down on the Sleeping People, Rushing Them Into Eternity—Appalling Scenes.

CAGLIARI, Oct. 22.—It is estimated that not less than 200 villagers of San Sperate were drowned in the flood to-day. The flood swept through the village with a sudden fury and in a moment the streets became rivers that carried everything with them. Houses were whirled through the streets like corks and their occupants did not have an opportunity to save themselves. Many were asleep when the torrent came and men, women and children were drowned before an effort could be made to save them. Half of the houses of the village were swept away and the place is isolated and access to it difficult.

WALLOPPED 'EM IN STYLE.

Butte Makes Twelve Runs and Freeses Out the Denver Ball Team.

Special Dispatch to the Standard.

The nearness to winter in Nevada has put an end to work this season.
